Of Course Your Back Hurts

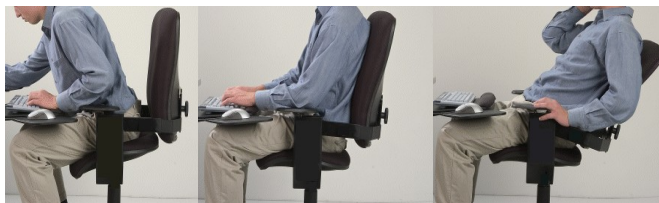

Your back was not designed for long periods of sitting. In fact, sitting is about the worst thing you can do for your back. But if your work requires sitting, what is a person to do besides suffer? How about trying a SwingSeat, the revolutionary ergonomic chair that feels good, looks good, and actually helps you control back pain!

SwingSeat's Secret:

Balanced - Effortless -

Motion SwingSeat's patented seat and backrest instantly and automatically adjust their positions to perfectly support you from the moment you sit down and every time you move. SwingSeat is the only chair in the world that allows your body to move naturally, in the same way that you walk, swim and dance. Because SwingSeat dynamically adjusts to you, you'll never have to fuss with levers and complicated controls. You'll be amazed at the difference in how you feel.

Ergonomic Breakthrough: Over 5,000 satisfied customers agree that SwingSeat is the only chair that provides the three essential ingredients of pain-free sitting: comfortable support, optimal alignment, and unrestricted natural human motion without touching even one control.

SmartMotion Technology Inc.

Why Motion Is Important—The old saying “use it or lose it” is true when it comes to good health and your back. Your body abhors static positions and craves motion because motion supplies your back, disks, muscles, and ligaments with blood and nutrition, keeping them healthy. SwingSeat combines natural motion and stable, comfortable support simultaneously so you feel great no matter what tasks you are doing.

How SwingSeat Works—The seat and back move independently so the chair is in-sync with your body providing continuous personalization. Unlike your current chair which controls your range of motion and insists you sit a certain way, the SwingSeat provides perfect equilibrium by counterbalancing the movement of your body. Reach forward to grab the phone, lean back to talk, sit up to work at your keyboard: SwingSeat perfectly supports this full range of movement. But all you really need to know is that it comfortably supports your bad back better than any other chair on the market. It will make a huge difference in how you feel.

How SwingSeat Feels—The first thing you’ll notice is that you feel like you are floating because SwingSeat has the lowest measured pressure points of any chair on the market. You’ll be surprised at how fast your bad back will respond when you sit in a chair that automatically responds to you.

Skeptical SwingSeat Will Work on Your Bad Back?

It’s only natural to be skeptical about relieving your stubborn back pain. After all, a bad back is one the most persistent and hard-to-fix problems people face. That’s why SmartMotion offers a 30 day Money Back Guarantee on the SwingSeat. Use it for one full month in your office, doing your work, and if your SwingSeat hasn’t dramatically improved your comfort and reduced your back pain to your satisfaction, simply return it to us and we will cheerfully refund your purchase price. That’s how much confidence we have that our product will work for you and your bad back.
